

I used a lot of simple shapes such as cuboid, cube and cylinder, and there is also a simple scene---- it is my accommodation and I tried use light to put it into a different atmosphere.

I did not think too much about the story but just a few attempts at software and functionality, I tried different texture to match the models even sometime they did not work in a satisfactory way, but for me, they were exciting.

